

PRODUCT CLASS

Printed decorative paper.

DESCRIPTION DEC

DEC papers are printed decorative papers used for the production of low pressure melamine chipboards, finish foils, edge-bandings, high pressure laminates and laminated flooring.

DESCRIPTION SYNCHRO DEC

SYNCHRO DEC papers are printed decorative papers used for the production of synchronized (rem) melamine chipboards and synchronized laminate.

These decorative papers reproduce woods, marbles, granites, fancies and unicolours, designs through cylinder engraving and rotogravure printing.

ADVANTAGES

- Wide range of decors (reproduction of woodgrains, fancy designs and unicolours and so on);
- Higher lights fastness of the colours used: higher than 6 in the scale of blue (rules EN ISO 4892-1 and 4892-2).

TECHNICAL CHARACTERISTIC

Main technical characteristics for each paper are available on request.

APPLICATIONS

Accurate quality test on the inbound raw papers and along the printing process are implemented in order to ensure the characteristics of absorption, porosity, tensile strength and smoothness. This result in decorative papers that can easily be impregnated with any kind of melamine/ureic/acrylic resins.
